Kent Heighton
Owner
Gorge Technology Group

Kent has been in the Gorge since 1993, moving here to windsurf and change his environment from New York City. Besides still windsurfing, he also enjoys skiing, kiteboarding, exploring, big boat sailing, and teaching. An interesting fact about Kent that you might not know: he figure skated regularly when living back east. Kent currently serves as Vice-President on the GTA Board.

Gorge Technology Group

Since 1996, Gorge Technology Group has been providing professional technology support services to businesses in the Columbia River Gorge and Portland. They provide network design, ongoing support and management including troubleshooting, desktop system support, systems design, web site design and maintenance, custom software development and training. In many cases, they serve as the IT department for their clients.

With over 35 years of technology consulting experience, owner Kent Heighton and his staff of professional consultants serve clients ranging from 3-person to 150-person businesses. Current customers include Full Sail Brewing, Maritime Services, Duckwall Pooley, La Clínica del Cariño, City of Goldendale and Hood Technology, to name a few.

Gorge Technology Group is located in the Gorge because of its close-knit community that had significant need for the services offered by the company. They've enjoyed membership with the GTA as a means to foster the growth of technology in the Gorge and because of the opportunity it provides to meet new and interesting business owners and clients.
